A Lighting Renaissance

The Renaissance period marked a time in history that had a profound influence on the Modern world through the dissemination of ingenious intellectual ideas and radical technical accomplishments.

Painters developed new techniques for the light and shadowing of subject matter, enhancing scenic and anatomical characteristics with unsurpassed vividness and naturalism. In architecture, the reformulation of style improved on Classical elements while pushing the boundaries of engineering beyond what was previously thought possible.

We are living in the Renaissance era of lighting.

In our latest release, we take advantage of the power and versatility of industry-leading technology. Gone are the days of being confined by bulky, imagination-constraining bulbs and light engines. We can design without limitation, freeing our minds from parameters engrained into us for generations. We’re designing bolder, more fluid silhouettes; fixtures that captivate the imagination with dynamic curvilinear aesthetics, ultra-slim profiles and sleek, minimalist light forms. The result is an unparalleled combination of style and performance.

Yet despite all that focus on superior design ingenuity, our commitment to quality workmanship and attention to detail remains unwavering. Our products go through a rigorous sampling and testing process, utilizing only the finest components and materials for consistent performance and longevity.

Respect for the past and an eye to the future, a commitment to innovation, and above all, the highest standards of quality. We’re breaking the imagination barrier.

We are reborn!

Sincerely,

Bradford Smith
