BRIGHT IDEA

To calculate the light needed for each room, multiply the length times the width of the room in feet. Then multiply that number times 1.5. This number gives you the amount of wattage needed to light the room properly for general illumination.

Named for the Philippine province of Capiz from which the vast amount of the world's supply comes from, capiz shells have been used for centuries to accent furniture and accessories. The tranquil beauty and soft luster of these shells are transformed into brilliant mosaics in the Roxana collection. Carefully cut and pieced together onto glass, each shell is all natural and contains random hues and lusters that contribute to its depth and beauty. This becomes apparent when lit, as the shell's translucency allows its characteristics to show through. Embedded within the mosaic is an attractive ring of amber and rose glass beads adding contrast and jewel-like qualities. Choose from Polished Chrome or Aged Bronze finishes.

GEORGIAN COURT

During the mid-eighteenth century, the Georgian style became immensely popular, not only in England, but also in Colonial America. The "Colonial" home was influenced by the Georgian style, characterized by a sense of proportion, balance, and carefully thought out details. Furniture and objects of the time were of a larger scale, yet with a lighter feeling than earlier periods. This lighter feeling transmitted grace, elegance, and prominence, and allowed details to become more of the focal point, rather than the principle elements of the structure. The Georgian Court Collection reflects those earlier influences with well-balanced proportions, attractive brass finished details, and amber glass with a marbelized finish and decorative ring.

Recalling an age when workmanship was paramount and lamp makers took pride in carefully scrutinizing every detail, the Williamsport collection captures this same historic charm and timeless elegance. This series is crafted of solid brass castings and turnings bathed in a Vintage Brass patina and topped with blown opal glass or pleated cream fabric shades with solid brass framework. Each fixture is supported by high gauge decorative tubing reminiscent of the gas lighting from the late 1800's, lending themselves to become family heirlooms for future generations.

HERITAGE

This series is a tribute to England's first porcelain manufacturers dating back to the mid-18th century. Factories of the time developed product for the aristocratic market. Although many are no longer in operation, the techniques used then still apply today of hand-working molds and patterns. The strength and non-porous nature of porcelain allow intricate details and shapes as evidenced in the exquisite flowers accenting this series. This collection has crystal accents and intertwined branches finished in cream.

The true source of the Amazon was discovered in 1953 to be a small stream, The Huarco, in the Andes Mountains of Peru. The thick canopy of foliage that surrounds this meandering waterway was the inspiration for the collection. The refreshing green leaves invoke a feeling of a tropical rain forest. Complimenting the hand-blown amber glass, the base of each blossom is adorned with chestnut hues clasping clear crystal droplets.

ILLUMINARE PART 2

Individuality is what defines this exquisite line of hand-blown glass. This ancient technique of fine craftsmanship ensures that quality and originality is at the heart of every piece. Each piece is meticulously hand-blown with up to three layers of uncompromising beauty and style. This art is performed only by skilled craftsmen who uphold the highest standards to ensure a unique identity throughout each layer. The special technique of layering allows light to spread evenly across the glass resulting in a warm glow over the entire surface.

The Illuminare Glass Collection offers a choice of many unique designs in a variety of colors and styles, allowing these Italian inspired works of art to be adaptable to any decor.

The park commission of Chicago created Hamilton Park in 1904. It is one of ten parks in the south side that were part of a revolutionary system of neighborhood parks designed by nationally renowned landscape architects, the Olmsted brothers. Captivating grace and grandeur with nature inspired simplicity echo the historic lighting fixtures present in that era. A Weathered Charcoal finish on an elaborate solid cast aluminum frame is complemented with seeded glass.

The English Tudor period brought about a design style that looked to its natural surroundings of the time. Homes were constructed of symmetrically arranged timber frames with an earthen material in between, giving it the attractive "black and white" look so common with this style. The Chaumont collection updates this classical look with a solid cast aluminum frame, Matte Black finish with silver highlights and cream glass.

K A N S O

"Embracing the everyday, unadorned things in life is to embrace truth". Rarely has any one philosophy had such a clear and defined impact on a garden style as the indelible mark left by Zen on the Japanese garden. Kanso is one of the six basic aesthetic principles embraced by Zen. Simplistic styling, a key tenet of Zen, and cleanliness of form is a repeated motif in Japanese architecture. Constructed of cast aluminum, this series features an Aged Bronze finish with contrasting white glass.
